

General terms of entry

We run monthly competitions. Competitions in “Golden Owl Writers” have a rolling deadline unless otherwise stated. A story or poem that misses the cut-off point for one issue will simply be included in the next contest.

All entries must be original and previously unpublished – this includes newspapers, magazines, books and websites. Publication on private online forums that are password-protected and in private letters and emails does not count.

There is no entry fee and to enter email your entry to goldenowl@interia.pl .

The subject line in your email should state "Golden Owl Writers Competition" and please paste your short story or poem into the body of the email. We are looking for short stories and the word limit is 3,000 words or poems of up to 30 lines. The topic of story could be given by the judges.

The judges' decision is final and no correspondence can be entered into regarding the marking, critique or merits of individual entries or winners. But we welcome feedback on the competitions in general.

You will retain copyright over your material. The winners will be published in “Golden Owl Writers” e-journal (with your permission of course), and PDF form to print in your school. You have the right to refuse such permission.

The competitions are open to all nationalities worldwide, but entries must be in English.
